

WIN a four berth touring tent FROM SUNNCAMP

This month, keen camper Holly Aspinall has picked up two great prizes on her camping travels – a SunnCamp Evolution 400 tent with door canopy and a ferry crossing to France with Condor Ferries

Last September we tested SunnCamp's Evolution 300 and our editor thought it a real winner. So, when I had the opportunity to look over the Evolution 400 I jumped at the chance and, wow, I can understand why this is the company's most popular tent. In fact, I managed to negotiate one as a prize there and then – and SunnCamp has even thrown in the new optional Door Canopy, a 'tailored to fit' luxury carpet and also a protective Footprint Groundsheet.

SunnCamp has long been respected as a supplier of innovative family tents and their reputation for stylish design combined with quality performance continues to grow. The exciting new SunnCamp range for 2009 features tents with both individuality and flair, not only for families but for couples and solo campers alike.

No tent encapsulates the SunnCamp design philosophy better than the stunning Evolution 400, a real head turning four-berth touring tent which is bound to attract envious attention from fellow campers on site. Its simple three pole construction makes it so simple, easy and quick to erect, yet the semi geodesic design gives the Evolution superb stability and strength once pitched.

The Evolution 400 features a fully sewn in groundsheet and also has a one-piece four-berth inner tent with a large 'D' door backed by a mesh panel to keep out the bugs. The spacious living area has a generous 2m headroom and, with so many windows, vents, the two side doors and light coloured fabric overhead, it is really bright and airy. The tent packs down to an easily transportable size and weighs in at just 13kg.

As ever SunnCamp has listened to campers and has introduced door canopies by popular demand. These are available for the four-berth 400, the six-berth 600 and 600DL models. They will also retro fit to previous years tents. Not only do they provide excellent protection, but also make a great looking tent even more attractive and add plenty of living space.

Also available for the Evolutions, and the Platinum range of tents, are some quite luxurious 'tailored to fit' camping carpets, adding warmth and comfort to your tent for that really cosy feel. Made to measure footprint stone protection sheets are also up for grabs.

SunnCamp's attention to detail is apparent and its product developers are coming up with exciting new tents designed for campers by campers. So get ready for the camping season with this great package – for your chance to get your hands on it, see how to enter opposite.
